

The brick sidewalk outside the KidSummer Classroom is a special part of CCMNH.

Year after year, children (and grownups!) returning to the Museum head over to check on "their" bricks.

Inscribed with a special message from grandparents, remembering a beloved spouse, celebrating a birthday or wedding or the loss of a tooth: each brick is a memory that will always be part of the Cape Cod Museum of Natural History.

It's time to fill in the blanks!

Add your special brick to the path through the Bobbie Williams Native Plant Garden to the door of the KidSummer Classrooms.

Bobbie Williams, longtime Volunteer and Friend of CCMNH, played an important role in developing the museum's educational programs for both children and adults. The KidSummer Classroom Building and the Bobbie Williams Native Plant Garden were developed in her honor.
